

2024 POLICIES & GUIDELINES

Fondation Pour l'Audition, hereinafter referred to as "FPA", supports scientific research in Hearing with the ultimate goal of improving hearing health. FPA is committed to support excellence in hearing research by awarding scientific prizes, such as the FPA Scientific Grand Prize (hereinafter referred to as "the Prize").

ARTICLE 1. OBJECTIVE

The FPA Scientific Grand Prize is awarded annually to an investigator in recognition of the excellence and impact of their work in Hearing. The Prize will honor major research discoveries, either clinical or basic, in the field of Hearing. FPA welcomes nominations related to topics in hearing sciences, auditory neurosciences, brain imaging, social and human sciences, disability, speech... Translational research is encouraged.

ARTICLE 2. ELIGIBILITY

The Prize is open to investigators holding a faculty position as either M.D., Ph.D. or M.D./Ph.D. and still active in research/practice (Emeritus status not eligible).

Prizes may be shared by different investigators. Previous laureates of the FPA Scientific Grand Prize are not allowed to reapply for the Prize. Current and past members of the FPA Board of Directors are ineligible. Also, current members of the FPA Scientific Committee are ineligible.

ARTICLE 3. OVERALL PROCESS TIMETABLE

ARTICLE 4. NOMINATION PROCESS

Nominations to the Prize may only be submitted by a peer. Self-nominations are excluded. Members of the FPA Scientific Committee cannot submit nominations.

4.1 Required documents - All the documents must be submitted in English ONLY.

In order to nominate a candidate, a peer will need to:

- fill out the nomination application form,
- provide the CV (documenting the candidate's academic records, professional experience, distinctions and awards, main lectures/presentations) and the full list of publications of the candidate,
- gather one letter of support.

4.2 Electronic submission

The documents (2 MB max) must be submitted electronically as PDF files through the FPA e-submission portal at <https://www.fondationpourl audition.org/scientific-prizes-786-en> by May 31, 2024 at 5 PM (French time). No supplementary material other than the documents requested are accepted.

4.3 General considerations

Incomplete applications or applications not complying with the FPA policies will be administratively rejected. Any misleading or false statements will render the application null and void. Late applications will not be accepted. If you nominated a candidate for the prize in previous years, we invite you to resubmit your nomination with an up-to-date resume.

4.4 Acknowledgment of receipt

Upon receipt of the electronic application by FPA, the nominator will receive an acknowledgment of receipt to the e-mail address provided in the nomination form.

ARTICLE 5. PEER-REVIEW PROCESS

The FPA policies are intended to ensure that all nominations are evaluated on a fair and timely process, free of bias.

5.1 Admissibility and review process

FPA verifies the admissibility of nominations and compliance with the present FPA policies.

Compliant nominations will be evaluated by the FPA Scientific Committee. The FPA Scientific Committee¹ will select the laureate of the Prize as the one reaching the absolute majority of votes. In the event of a tie, the chair of the FPA Scientific Committee will have the casting vote.

5.2 Evaluation criteria

Nominations will be evaluated using the following evaluation criteria:

- The quality of the candidate and their recognition within the research community
- The expertise, past experiences and achievements of the candidate
- The originality, quality and excellence of the candidate's research work
- The impact of the candidate's research on hearing health

The FPA Scientific Committee is sovereign in its deliberations, which are confidential and not subject to any appeal in any way by the nominator, their institution or the candidate.

If the quality of the nominations does not meet the FPA requirements, the FPA Scientific Committee is free to dismiss all the applications and not award any Prize.

The award recipient proposed by the FPA Scientific Committee is subjected to the approval of the FPA Board of Directors.

5.3 Breach of review

Candidates, nominators, as well as their institution's representatives, may not contact any member of the FPA Scientific Committee regarding their application during the review process.

Failure to comply with this policy will create serious breaches of confidentiality and conflicts of interest in the peer review process that will lead to the administrative rejection of the nomination.

Members of the FPA Scientific Committee are required to notify FPA if they are contacted by an applicant.
